

HealthCircle

Center for Advanced Reproductive Services

Acupuncture

Helen BetGivargis

Licensed Acupuncturist and former IVF Embryologist

Have you ever thought about Acupuncture to enhance your fertility treatment plan?

We are aligning to offer pre and post-embryo transfer acupuncture treatments, which have been shown to help with fertility in many ways. These new treatments will be available on site at the Center and benefit both women and men undergoing treatment.

Helen BetGivargis has had 15 years experience as an IVF Embryologist before becoming a certified acupuncturist and she has trained with numerous fertility experts in the field of acupuncture, chinese medicine, and functional medicine approaches to fertility.

What Are Some Facts about Acupuncture?

An estimated five million Americans visit acupuncture practitioners annually. Scientific research methods, clinical studies, and highly acclaimed peer reviewed journals such as The Journal of New England Medicine are systematically publishing studies about acupuncture as a valuable method of healing along side Western medicine. Both National Institute of Health (NIH) and World Health Organization (WHO) also recognize acupuncture as an option for many clinical conditions.

The WHO states that acupuncture has been shown to be effective in relieving many health conditions including; anxiety, panic disorders, impotence, infertility, PMS, PID, vaginitis, and irregular periods.

For more information about Acupuncture at The Center, please call 844-467-3483

Part of our HealthCircle Program, providing support, nutrition, yoga and acupuncture into your treatment

(844) HOPEIVF (844-467-3483)

www.uconnfertility.com

An academic affiliate of UCONN School of Medicine